

“Our system. Your success.”
Tegometall at EuroShop 2026

Lengwil, November 25 – One system, endless possibilities: following the motto “Our system. Your success.,” Tegometall presents their high-end shelving systems for shopfitting and DIY stores at the EuroShop 2026 in Düsseldorf, Germany. In Hall 10, Booth C29, the traditional Swiss company demonstrates how economical, future-proof solutions for retail, industry, and logistics are made possible.

Flexibility is key to success

From fashion boutique to DIY store: Tegometall’s system-based approach enables end-to-end design of sales areas, storage zones, and back of house areas. Existing installations can be expanded or adapted to suit new requirements at any time without having to purchase completely new equipment. The result: maximum flexibility and long-term investment reliability.

“Today’s companies are facing challenges that are constantly changing,” explains Dr. Arndt Lüdtke, CEO of Tegometall. “With our modular approach, we create solutions that grow – from individual shelves to comprehensive shop solutions. Our customers do not have to replace their entire fixture systems when their business changes.”

System diversity live at EuroShop

At the EuroShop 2026, Tegometall will be demonstrating the versatility of its modular shelving system. Among other items, visitors will be able to see:

- TegoClassic: The proven, universal shelving system for a wide range of applications
- TegoStrong: Robust and sturdy for demanding applications
- TegoClothes: The elegant solution for textile retail

All components are based on the same design concept and can be individually combined, expanded, and scaled. Numerous companies in Europe appreciate how quickly and easily these systems are assembled and installed.

Think sustainably, act economically

In addition to high flexibility, Tegometall values reliability, durability, and resource efficiency. On the one hand, compatibility across different product series allows existing components to be reused. On the other hand, the company relies on European sites, local contacts, proximity to customers, as well as fast, economical, and environmentally conscious production and logistics.

On top of that, Tegometall is now taking another step toward sustainability: by introducing PFAS-free powder coatings. The new coatings do not contain any potentially harmful “forever chemicals,” are solvent-free, low-emission, robust, and durable. They unite the highest surface quality with ecological responsibility, already meeting upcoming EU requirements. At the EuroShop 2026, Tegometall will showcase their clear commitment to sustainable, future-proof solutions that go beyond product design.

About Tegometall

The Tegometall Group, headquartered in Lengwil, Switzerland, is an internationally successful family-owned company specializing in shopfitting. Tegometall develops and manufactures high-end shelving systems for shopfitting and DIY stores. Their service portfolio ranges from development to final acceptance of the shelving on site. The highly specialized facilities of the Tegometall Group are equipped with state-of-the-art production lines: Tegometall uses cutting-edge technologies for the ongoing development of its products, for large-scale production and customer-specific custom-made products, and to achieve their sustainability goals. In 2022, the company was awarded the German B2B Award in the “Shop Fitter” category for its good price-performance ratio (top 5) and high customer satisfaction (top 3). In addition to their headquarters in Switzerland, Tegometall is represented in Germany, Poland, Slovenia, and the United Kingdom.

Media contact

Contegy GmbH
Brigitte Streibich
Press@contegy.de
+49 151 20509717